LET THEM BUY ADVERTISING.

IF the Nevada Sugar company would do some more advertising it would not have to get down on its marrow bones to importune a governor to lower the dignity of his office by boosting for a product that is unknown because the makers refuse to use printer's ink. The sugar crop of Colorado last year aggregated $30,000,000, and most of this product was consumed right there at home by fruit packers and housewives. The Great Western Sugar company, which controls most of the factories in Colorado, seems to have keener business acumen than the management of the Nevada concern, for they are not averse to spending money for space in the local papers. It is not unusual to see page advertisements of the company in the highest priced papers of Denver and Pueblo, and the consequences are not hard to find. In this way the sugar manufacturers have built up a business that ranks second in the United States, and they don't have to go around with a governor at the end of a chain holding the hat for public charity.

If the Nevada Sugar company knows how to do business it has failed in a most singular manner to manifest the first indications of enterprise. The promoters went into the business without any blunders on, they carefully measured their chances to succeed and, in measuring these chances, they must have seen that they could take a chance with the boosting spirit of the Nevada newspapers. This led them to refrain from making an appropriation for advertising, and they have reached that stage of senility when they think they are entitled to continue as publishers' pensioners. They are running a strong race with the church fair ladies, who are taxed 50 per cent of the regular advertising rates by getting in on the deadhead list. With the governor worked in the same old easy manner and abetted by the publicity commissioner, the Nevada Sugar company finds no excuse for advertising, and they will not advertise so long as the publishers of Nevada and adjacent states are foolish enough to give them whatever they want for nothing.

This sugar company pays cash for beets, limestone, transportation and wages, and there is no reason why it should not pay for newspaper space. Even the Havemeyers of New York, 3000 miles from Tonopah, finds it pays to advertise domino sugar, but the Nevada concern wants to put one over the local newspapers by essaying to convince the editors that they have to go the limit in boosting another man's game. The same criticism applies to a cracker bakery in Nevada that is trying to beat the trust by showing its goods on consumers. These goods are eminently superior in every respect to the trust made article, but no one ever hears of them through the advertising columns, and the makers ask why their business should not flourish to a greater degree than it does.

A home products movement would not be a bad idea if the men chiefly interested did not try to sneak in the back way without paying the admission fee charged the public.

To those distinguished citizens who think this nation should march through to the City of Mexico without more ado, we commend the lesson acquired in the pursuit of a lone Mexican cut-throat bandit and four-times murderer in the vicinity of Bingham, Utah. After a week he is still at large, having worn out a dozen posesses of the best armed dead shots of Utah equipped with automobiles, horses, ammunition and provisions. Yet this solitary, half-clad fugitive has endured privations of cold and hunger for a week and has succeeded in eluding a small army of a hundred trained mountaineers familiar with every gulch in the district.

From the quantity of mail coming to this office soliciting free notices for automobile companies, the Bonanza is convinced that most of the $30,000,000 surplus of the postoffice department comes from concerns trying to get free advertising for their wares. They should try straight advertising and note the difference.

Christmas Cheer---All the Year

There are 365 happy days in the year for the possessor of a camera. Photography is instructive and enjoyable. It educates the eye, trains the hand and elevates the mind.

If there are children in your home give them a camera for Christmas. Nothing could be more appropriate and nothing would be more welcome.

A Camera Pleases at Once and the Pleasure Grows

The young folks will get more pleasure from picture taking than they could from any other source. In the spring and summer they will get renewed pleasure from it—and will cause them to become lovers of nature.

A camera for the boy or girl is an ideal gift. We have a nice assortment of Kodaks, ranging in price from $1.00 to $65.00.

Had Serious Lung Trouble---Now Well

Sufferers from Lung Trouble are often misled in the belief that nothing will save them. Rest, fresh air, wholesome food and regularity in habits do much in aiding to restore health, but something else is needed. Many people who have taken Eckman's Alternative have testified that it was this medicine which restored them to health. Read this:

"My Dear Sir: Through your instrumentality I have been saved from a premature grave. On December 14, 1904, I was taken with Typhoid pneumonia which developed into consumption. In February, 1905, I went to Fort Worth, Texas, and later to Canon City, Colorado. After being there two weeks, my physician informed me that my case was hopeless. Three weeks later I returned home, weighing 100 pounds, the doctor having given me no assurance of reaching there alive.

"On July 14, 1905, I began taking Eckman's wonderful remedy for consumption. Today I weigh 155 pounds. I am stout and well and can do any kind of work about my grain elevator. (Affidavit.) (Above abbreviated; more on request.) Eckman's Alternative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious in cases of severe throat and lung affections, bronchitis, bronchial asthma, stubborn colds and in rebuilding the system. Does not contain narcotics, poisons, or habit-forming drugs. For sale by leading druggists. Write the Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for booklet telling of cures and additional evidence."
